The Human Acceptance Project

By Destiny Hankerson

A concept art project about accepting our humanity.

What if we lived in a world where we embraced being human? What if every mistake or misunderstanding was greeted with kindness and empathy, instead of harsh judgment? And what if we loved our sensitivity, emotions, and the things that make us humans unique?

My concept art project explores a world of human acceptance, where we embrace everything that makes us human.

Human Acceptance Art

This is art that accepts and embraces the human experience. Every emotion, thought, and moment has its place.

Heart Art - 2018

Eartha and Aris - March 28, 2020

I’m Proud to Be Different - November 17, 2020

When I’m Thinking - 2026

The Human Hand - 2019

Human Acceptance Poetry

It Was Always Okay - 2026
Free verse poem

It was always okay
to never be perfect.
It was always okay
to make a mistake.
It was always okay
to shed a small tear or smile and laugh
on a sunny bright day.

It was always okay
to love someone special.
It was always okay
to touch the blue sky.
It was always okay
to face the big challenge and come to the light with your soul free to fly.

Humanity - 2026

Humanity is big, bright, and beautiful everyone in every color and size.
No one is exactly like anyone else
and isn't that precious, isn't that fine?

Humanity never fits in the box.
Humanity touches the whole universe.
Humanity smiles, and laughs, and cries and all of this chaos is beautiful friction.

Isn't it precious?
Isn't it fine?
Humanity's heart is here for all time.

I Sing to My Own Tune – 2018

I sing to my own tune
I do things my own way
If nobody likes it, it's okay.

I sing to my own tune
and march to my own beat.
And if the world loves it,
then that's sweet.

Either way, it's still okay.
I sing to my own tune
everyday.

Human Acceptance Songs

Never Had to Be Anyone (2026)

It's Okay to Be Human (2026)

Everybody Says There's Nowhere to Go (2025)

The Human Spirit Touch (2018)

Thank you for taking a look at the Human Acceptance Project. Hopefully this inspires you to share your own Human Acceptance to the world!

Art From Pixabay